I never thought I could say this sooner...“it’s good to be home.” Thank you all for praying for me. I truly praise the Lord for how He paved the way for me to get home. I wasn’t sick when I was in the US and when I got home, but I am right now under SQ. Better to be safe than sorry. The last few days of my stay in the US were very tiring yet exciting. I hope to share details with you soon.

But for now, let me just once again encourage all of us to stay home unless it is necessary for us to go out. And let us be observing the mandatory social distancing and the frequent washing of hands. Let us take advantage as well of our time at home to be in the Word personally and as a family. I have shared with you once how I long for every family to have their own family worship, so let us make every effort to start having one if you haven’t started yet, or enjoy it more if you already have family worship. We also have been making use of technology to be serving you with our study of God’s Word.

We have two videos per week that we can look forward to: Midweek’s Study on Exodus and our Sunday Preachings. I know that there are groups in our church who still meet via ZOOM. And I am encouraged by that. I also have been thinking of ways I can serve you while I am under quarantine, so starting next week I would like to share with you a daily short devotion and prayer time. And I am excited to be working on it already.

Lastly friends, let us continue to check on others, to be praying for the frontliners, our government and for people to realize their dire need for Jesus Christ. May this pandemic cause people to pray not panic: to worship rather than worry. May we as Paul said let every thought be captive to the obedience of Christ: to shine for Him as the noonday sun, to be the salt and light of the earth, to be proclaimers of the best news ever in the person and finished work of Jesus Christ our Lord. GOD bless you!
